Bioclimatic Pergolas Misteral

Perfect harmony of functionality and design

Our pergolas adapt flawlessly to any architectural challenge – be it existing structures, new constructions, or renovations. They combine exceptional strength with aesthetic precision, each pergola custom-built to achieve the ideal balance of power and elegance.

Proper louver orientation — complete light and air control – PARALLEL ORIENTATION OF LOUVERS!

At Misteral, we always orient the louvers of our bioclimatic pergolas parallel to the building. This approach allows for the largest rotation angle on the market – up to 160°, giving you full control over light and shading.

In summer, the louvers allow ventilation while providing pleasant shade. Only correct orientation and precise engineering – rotation angle, positioning, and balance – ensure the optimal blend of light, air, and comfort.

Unified and Elegant Look for Your Home

All our pergolas and canopies share an identical structure, ensuring a cohesive and elegant appearance for your home. With unified construction and attention to technical detail, you create a living environment that embodies harmony, durability, and top-tier quality.

Sustainable Materials

All products are made from non-corrosive aluminum, stainless steel, and glass, ensuring long-lasting performance.

Harmonized Elements

When purchasing multiple products (e.g., a pergola and a carport), we ensure both share the same structural design for a seamless, cohesive look.

Lengthy Warranty

Our products are built to last, with up to 25 years of warranty.

Adaptability

Fully customizable in size and shape to fit your terrace or architectural concept.

Create an outdoor space that is aesthetic, functional, and enduring – perfect down to the smallest detail.
